About this collection

The Rogues Gallery Images collection contains the scanned images of the University historical pictures from 1867 to 2000. The physical images, encased in glass, are inside the first two floors of College Hall, formerly the Administration Building. These images document Gonzaga's history from its beginning. The images show events, organizations, athletic groups, and individuals. Most images have been identified. Additional and/or better quality photographs might be available at Foyle Center Library in the University Archives & Special Collections Department.

The Rogues Gallery began to be available on the Administration Building walls in 1971 and has been maintained over the years by John Dunne, Campus Photographer, Father Leo Yeats, S. J., Public Relations Director, and later Vice President, Father Arthur L. Duinseit, S. J., and finally by Alumni Director Marty Puylar.

Each original photo has been removed from its case in a chronological order. They are then scanned and replaced with high-resolution digital prints. The originals are stored in the Special Collections vault for safekeeping. The photographs' labels are retained and used for their metadata. Each image in each case is given a unique identification number based upon the case year and number in the case.

You can search by word to find a specific person, topic, event or year:

For information about this collection, to see the originals, or to find out about other possible sources/photographs for your research, please contact uasc@gonzaga.edu or Stephanie Plomew at 509-313-3847.

Advanced Search

The Advanced Search page will open by clicking on Advanced search on the upper right corner on the screen if you are using a computer; or by clicking the `+` sign if you are using your cell phone. It enables you to select specific collections to search. If you do not want to search all collections, unclick Select all Collections; then choose the collections you want to search.

The next step will be to select which fields you would like to search. To do so, click on the arrow next to all fields located in the Enter Search Term box. You can either choose one field or all fields.

Advanced Search offers four search types:

- All of the words — searches for all of the words in any order. Using Boolean logic, this search is similar to using "AND". For instance, if you entered "President Theodore Roosevelt" in this search box, the search results would contain only those items containing all three terms. Do not include "AND" with your search terms. The Boolean operator "AND" is used automatically with the All of the words search and will be ignored if it is entered as a search term.

- Any of the words — searches for any of the words entered in the search box. Using Boolean logic, this search is similar to using "OR". For instance, if you entered "President Theodore Roosevelt" in this search box, the search results would contain all items containing any of the three terms, including results with only "President", only "Theodore", and only "Roosevelt". Do not include "OR" with your search terms. The Boolean operator "OR" is used automatically with the Any of the words search and will be ignored if it is entered as a search term.

- The exact phrase — searches for all of the words in the exact order. This is similar to using quotation marks in other search engines. For instance, if you were searching for "President Theodore Roosevelt", search results would contain only those items that contain the phrase "President Theodore Roosevelt".
• None of the words — use this option with any of the other search boxes to exclude a term. Using Boolean logic, this search is similar to using "NOT". For instance, if you entered "President Roosevelt" in the exact phase search box and "Franklin" in this search box, the search results would contain all items containing "President Roosevelt" that do not contain the word "Franklin". Do not include "NOT" with your search terms. The Boolean operator "NOT" is used automatically with the None of the words search and will be ignored if it is entered as a search term.

You may also narrow your search by adding a date in the Enter Date search box.

To look at a specific image from your result page, click on it and a new window will open with the image and its description. The little arrow on the right upper corner of the image is used to look at the image more closely.

Click on the X on the upper right side of the image to close and go back to the image with description. Now, if you would like to see the next image listed, please use the arrows. Those are located on the upper right side.

Back to results will bring you back to the list of images in that collection if you are just browsing; and to your results if you had already search for something specific.
